

The Forum

Prague 1, Václavské náměstí 19

The Forum is a majestic neo-baroque building from 1896, designed by the prominent Viennese architect B. Ohmann, located on the corner of Wenceslas Square and Jindřišská Street in the center of Prague. It originally served as the headquarters of a former insurance company, but today it offers completely renovated office and commercial spaces with a modern interior that meets the latest requirements for administrative centers. The building has 6 floors and offers up to 6,000 sqm of office space and 1,200 sqm of commercial space, 5 elevators for 13 people and parking in the building. The reconstruction was carried out with the aim of preserving the historical value of the building and creating a modern space for tenants.
